

AD

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST

Atlanta, Did You Hear?

The Whitley Unveils New Look, Square Feet Studio Welcomes New Hire, and More News This Week

Here's what you need to know

With events for designers happening daily, and new projects cropping up all over the city, keeping track of all the goings-on in Atlanta can be a tall order. That's why AD PRO is here to keep you informed for the week.

The Whitley Hotel Unveils Multimillion-Dollar Renovation

The Whitley, a Luxury Collection hotel, has unveiled its multimillion-dollar renovations after years of serving Atlanta as the Ritz-Carlton in Buckhead. The renovations were led by Boston-based Parker-Torres Design. The changes included a reimagined lobby showcasing vibrant art, 507 refreshed guest rooms, marble-clad bathrooms, and mahogany hardwood floors. "The formal atmosphere of the old Ritz-Carlton has been replaced with a sophisticated but casual vibe," the firm's Barbara Parker tells AD PRO. "It's as warm and inviting as a Southern front porch."

News from...

NJF
AN MMCGLOBAL COMPANY

1,494,611 unique
visitors monthly